Dear Parent/Carer

Re: Year 11 arrangements during the exam period

With only two weeks to go until the GCSE exam period formally starts, we continue to be impressed with the mature approach and attitude of our year 11 students. Within the context of such turbulence throughout the past two years, they continue to demonstrate the desire and commitment to strive to do their best and achieve highly.

As we head into the exam season, I am writing to confirm the arrangements for year 11 students during the exam period, including expectations of study leave. The students were informed of these plans in an assembly today.

Arrangements from 16 May – 27 May

During the two weeks prior to the May half term, year 11 students will be expected to be in school full time and attending their normal lessons when they do not have exams. Special sessions will be offered for morning exams which will take place after school on the day preceding the exam, as well as breakfast sessions on the morning of the exam. For afternoon exams, special sessions will be offered at points in the day to help students with final preparations for their exam. For example, if there is an afternoon exam then period 3 will be re-timetabled so that students due to sit the exam have a lesson in that subject immediately before the exam itself. The timetable detailing this provision for the two weeks prior to the May half term can be found below on pages 2 and 3.

Arrangements from 6 June – 23 June

Following the May half term, year 11 students are expected to be in school only when they have an exam and when they have revision lessons timetabled to help them prepare for their exams. The timetable for these sessions can be found below on page 4 below. Students must be in school and attend any exam and revision session scheduled during the school day for each and every subject they are taking. The breakfast and after school sessions will continue to be optional, and are primarily offered to students that may have missed the lesson(s) earlier that day due to being in an exam. Therefore, this does mean that when do not have an exam or a timetabled revision lesson, then year 11 students are able to study from home. We have found that this combined approach helps students who often wish to follow their own revision timetable according to their needs, but also provides them with focused lessons prior to exams.

Please note that expectations during this time remain the same; full school uniform must be worn and students should be fully equipped for all exams and revision sessions. Further information about the leavers' assembly, on Thursday 23 June, will be sent out in due course.

At this time, we wish all of our year 11 students every success in their forthcoming exams. If you or your child have any questions regarding any of these arrangements then please do get in touch.

Yours sincerely
